Have you ever been on a crime scene and driven over shell casings in the dark? Or approached a scene without knowing that an armed subject was around the corner?

With Flock Safety's gunshot detection technology – Raven – how you respond to “shots fired” is changed forever.

With Raven, you are now equipped with information and no longer solely rely on a stressed-out caller's information. By pairing gunshot detection with your LPR cameras, you can virtually "string the tape" before arriving at the crime scene – creating better situational awareness and improved officer safety.

Learn more about using your Flock Safety LPR cameras with Raven gunshot detection to build a virtual crime scene and get a holistic solution to fighting crime in your city.
